

Recycling Companies

PVC Recycler Finder

The PVC recycler finder offers a current listing of companies which accept old PVC products, using them for the production of grinding media, regranulates or new products.

Using the search function, many varying criteria can be used to search. It is possible for example to specifically search for a defined waste quality and the end product made of this material. This recycler list comprises about 60 PVC recycling companies providing an important information system.

www.agpu.com